Remote Consulting Requirements

- You (CORE’s client) certify and attest that you are authorized to conduct this assessment.
- You certify and attest that property owners and managers are both aware and provide permission to conduct this assessment.
- You certify and attest that there is no jurisdictional conflict or possible misunderstanding regarding the legal authorization of the test.
- You certify and attest that all information provided will be used for legal purposes only to improve security.

Expenses

- On occasion, The CORE Group may be able to cut keys, or other hardware/software needed for your assessment via an overnight service. All hardware expenses will be billed to the client at-cost based on retail rates on CORE's website. Shipping and other charges may apply. Client agrees to pay, within 15 days, for all billed expenses with the stipulation that CORE needs permission, in writing, to incur these expenses on the client's behalf.

Hours

- The client has purchased a package with a specific number of hours included. CORE will attempt to provide as much support as possible within that timeframe and does not count scheduling and general pre-purchase questions against client time.
- CORE will strive to provide the client with a 30-minute warning before time runs out. If the client chooses to add more time, you must request this in writing. If CORE has availability the client will be charged $350 perhour for additional hours, which are billed in one hour increments. There is no guarantee that time outside of the scheduled time are available.
